Men's 800 meeter Champion, Khadevis Robinson, TCU, 1:46.06
 "I intended to lead all the way, that's my style. I wanted to run 1:45.6, so I'm mad about that. I'll work on some technical things so it will happen at the NCAA's. All these guys ran hard, but they've got years to go - I'm a senior and I won conference as a sophomore and junior - I didn't want to lose now."

Notes: Robinson's time of 1:46.06 is a Rice Stadium and WAC Championship record. It is also an automatic qualifier for the NCAA Championships. It is the fastest collegiate time of the year.

Men's 3,000 Meter Steeplechase Champion Larry Stanley, Utah, 9:01.67

"This is the best moment since I started running. I always seem to be coming in second -- in high school and college. I haven't won in a long time and it feels great. My teammate kept pushing me throughout the race."

"I had to come from behind to win. I saw the leader getting tired at the last steeple and I knew I had enough left inside me to catch him in the last 50 meters."

Mens 5,000 Meter Champion, Jeff Simonich, Utah, 14:27.85

"The race went exactly as I planned. I wanted to stay within kicking distance - the SMU guy (Ephraim Mokgokhu) ran the 10,000 yesterday, so I know he would be tired. I just went after him on the last lap and he died. The weather was pretty humid, but it wasn't too bad for heat. It was nicer than I thought it would be."

Men's 110-meter hurdle champion Jeremy Kendall, Colorado State, 14.11
 "This is the best race I've been in all year - the most competitive. We (he and Rashad Stafford of Rice) were together all the way. From the fifth hurdle on, all I tried to do was pick up a few inches every hurdle. I have a lot of respect for Rashad - he's a great athlete."
 On his final conference meet (he is a senior): "This is the way to finish up my career in the conference. Right now, I hope I can get into the NCAA's. If not, I've had a great time."

Mens 400 Hurdles Champion Clayton Brookins, TCU, 50.91
 "At the end, I was just concentrating on keeping my arms going. I wanted to get my NCAA automatic qualifying time, and that's what I was thinking about. When we rounded the last turn, I felt the wind. It kind of caught me off guard, and that may be why the race tightened up."

Men's 4x100 meter relay champion, TCU, 38.81

Anchor leg Percy Spener

"After (Halloway) made up the deficit, it didn't leave us a whole lot of work to do after that. That's what teamwork is all about. It's a good feeling to break our own record and set a good mark for the guys who will run next year."

Notes: TCU's time in the 4x100 was a Rice Stadium and WAC Championships record, breaking their own meet record of 39.13 last season. The time is also an automatic qualifying time.

Men's Long Jump, Winner was Drexell Owusu of Rice, 24-1 3/4 (7.36m)

"After the first round I just couldn't make it go. I'll take the 10 points, but I'm not exactly thrilled with the distance. The win was kind of unexpected. I didn't think the 7.36 would hold. Today I got away with seven meters, but a victory is a victory. Luckily the triple jump is tomorrow and that's my event."

Notes: Owusu won with his first attempt. He is currently tied for second in the triple jump and is the defending WAC triple jump champion. This was his first conference victory in the long jump.

Ment's Discus Throw Champion Casey Malone, Colorado State, 59.08
 "I felt really good out there today. I had a good week of practice and tried to keep myself hydrated. I had a lot of support. My parents drove down from Colorado and were in the stands, and my coaches and teammates were cheering me on, so I'm glad I could throw well. Their support helped especially because its so hot."
 Notes: Malone automatically qualified for the NCAAs earlier this season. This throw was four centimeters better than his previous qualifying throw.

Men's Javelin Champion Daniel Gustafsson, SMU, 255-8

"Last year I started off good. But, at the NCAA's, I injured my foot. This year I have been going really slow, little by little. Last week in Louisiana was my first competition. My goal at this meet was to throw 75 meters and my personal best was 77.18. I didn't think I would PR today. I was more prepared for this competition than I was for NCAA's last year, as far as being in shape. Now I need to throw 79 meters to go the European Championships, that's my goal for the NCAA's."

Notes: With his final throw (255-8), Gustafsson set a WAC Championships meet record and a Rice Track Stadium record. Gustafsson also won the WAC individual title last season. The throw was an NCAA automatic qualifying mark.

Hammer Champion, Libor Charfreitag, SMU, 226-4
 "I felt good about my chances coming into the meet. I came here to set my personal best, but I didn't do that. It seems that every day in practice, I throw about 70 meters, but, my technique was very bad today. That's why I didn't do as well."

Decathlon Champion, C.J. Nakayama, Fresno State, 6,715 points

"Distance running is nothing new to me. I ran cross country in high school, but have not since. It is not something I have been practicing for. Today I PR'ed in all five events It made the whole meet for me, especially with yesterday's slow start. I am virtually a seven (meter) long jumper, but only went 6.45 yesterday. I think it was due to all of the other circumstances - wearing Rice shoes and a Rice uniform in the first two events. I lucked out in recording PRs on the second day."

Women's 100 Meters Champion Tinesha Hackney, TCU, 11.43

"I've been struggling all year. This was the best race I've run all year. I didn't know I'd finish and got scared in the middle of the race. I had a hamstring injury at the Penn Relays. This was my first individual race since. I'm so happy, I don't know what to do."

Notes: This was Hackney's second consecutive WAC title in the 100 meters.

Women's 800 Meter champion, Jeanette Castro, UTEP, 2:05.34

"I'm happy with the win, but it was more important to run fast enough to qualify for the NCAA meet (she met the provisional qualifying standard of 2:07.50). I had to make sure the pace was fast." I wasn't as concerned about winning the race as I was about the time, but it is nice to win.

Notes: Castro's time is a WAC Championship record, breaking her won record of 2:06.31, set last year.

Women's 3,000 meters Champion Courtney Meldrum, BYU, 9:37.60

"It was hard because we have not been running in hot weather but the race felt good. My team mates took the pressure of early and then I stepped forward after slow first laps.. I never feel I have a race but this one felt very good. I was excited for our freshman, Kristen Barnes for finishing third. Now I will train hard for nationals."

Women's 5,000 Meter champion, Frida Villum, Tulsa, 17:04.68

"Early on, I stayed right behind the CSU girl, Friday. I ran the 3K yesterday, so I was hoping they wouldn't start to fast. Then Emily Nay from BYU came up and passed me. When I passed her I think I had 1,000 meters to go. I figured, if she follows me, she might pass me but maybe not. In the last lap, I kept looking over my shoulder. I didn't have any doubts about the race, but I kept kicking because you never know."

Women's 100-meter hurdle champion Miesha Mckelvey, San Diego State, 13.18

"My start was real good - that's what I've been working on. I know Tiffany (Lott) has been hurt, but I know she can still be dangerous. I don't put anything past her. I think I ran a good race - I hit a couple of hurdles, but it was okay, otherwise."

Women's 4x100 meter relay champion, TCU, 44.21

Anchor leg Tinesha Hackney

"It was real important after the quick first leg to stay loose and focused. I really didn't have any doubt that we would win after I got the hand-off. I just had to stay focused and keep the sticks straight through the finish."

Notes: TCU's time in the 4x100 was a Rice Stadium Record in the event and an automatic qualifying mark for the NCAA's

Women's Margaret Fox, anchor-leg, 4x400-Meter Relay, Rice, 3:38.20
 "I'm thrilled to death. This was all I really wanted. The girls have worked really hard all year. I came around the corner and knew we couldn't have second place. I think it was our fastest time this year. Hopefully we'll repeat next year."
 On running with three seniors last year and three freshmen this year: "I always seem to be the odd one out. It's not me. I can't do it on my own."

Notes: The first three legs of the relay were run by Kelly Anderson, Lakeisha Robertson and Benecia Newhouse, who are all freshmen. Fox is a sophomore.

Women's Pole Vault Champion Melissa Price, Fresno State, 14-3 1/2
 "I haven't jumped an American record height in so long, it felt good to be even trying it. Of course I would have liked to clear it, but I felt really good today. It's kind of hard to get emotionally back up after already having two PRs today, but I am so happy with 14-3. That moves me up a lot and it was just great."

Notes: Erased her previous NCAA record of 14-0 that she recorded earlier this year. Missed three attempts at 14-7 1/2 which would have set the American record. Stacy Dragila holds the American record at 14-7 1/4. Price's clearance of 14-3 1/4 is the third best ever by an American. Dragila has two better heights.

Women's Shot Put Champion Teri Tunks, SMU, 18.30

"It was a great meet going into nationals. I'm a little tired from workouts this week, but I should get my legs under me and everything should fall into place at nationals."

Notes: Tunks' score in the shot put set new stadium and meet records.

Women's Discus Champion Shelly Borman, Colorado State, 193-1
 "In the first round, I finished short; so, I had no idea that it went that long. Today was definitely my day. Previously, my personal best was 188-1, so to open up with a PR was incredible. I feel really good about this meet. It is always good to have a great meet before the NCAA's. Hopefully, I am still on the way up."

Notes: With her throw of 193-1, Borman set the WAC record, the WAC Championships meet record, the Rice Stadium Record and posted an NCAA automatic qualifying mark. She broke the WAC Championships record in four of her six throws during the competition.

Women's Javelin Champion Windy Dean, SMU, 179-9
 "I started the season a little later than usual, that may be the difference between this year and last. Going into the NCAA's, I'm just as curious as everyone else as to how I am going to do. I have no expectations. This season seems to be just one big experiment, and, so far, it seems like I'm losing. I don't know, maybe not."

Notes: Dean repeats as the WAC javelin champion after setting the meet record last season (180-4)

Women's Hammer Champion Amy Palmer, BYU, 206-3
 "It felt good today. The best I've felt in a long time. My goal was consistency, and I made that. The gate caused me some mental problems, in as much as they pulled it in more than I'm used to; and, it caused me some mental games. I think I'll throw better at nationals where the competition will be stronger"

Notes: With her throw of 206-3 in the second throw of the preliminary round, Palmer set the WAC Championships record. The meet record was set four times during the preliminary rounds (Palmer-2, Ezeh, Dean).

Heptathlon Champion, Shauna Rohbock, BYU, 5,662 points
 "I know it (time in 800) was bad but it was still a PR. I obviously wanted the race to be slower. When she (Makaila Frary, SDSU) took off sprinting, I thought 'oh boy,' I thought she would die and it wouldn't be so bad. I was pretty upset with the way yesterday went, especially the hurdles. I hit six and didn't think I'd be able to high jump. I wasn't tired, just mentally drained from having to compensate."
