BYU Gymnastics Heads to Boise State's Season Opener

PROVO, Utah (January 13) — On the coat tails of its own season opener against Kentucky, the BYU gymnastics team heads to Boise State to open the Bronco's season this Friday at 7:00 p.m.

"Boise State is always a good place to compete, especially this early in the season," said BYU coach Brad Cattermole.

Cattermole said this meet should be a confidence builder for the Cougars. The Boise judges award high scores to routines done well and the large crowds make performing more exciting for the team.

"With so many LDS families living in the area, we get our fair share of cheerleaders," Cattermole said.

Cattermole said he's pleased with the team's progress and hard work.

"We've been ready for about a month now. The girls have gotten comfortable in their routines."

The Cougars had some difficulty keeping focused at the Kentucky meet. The team was more concerned with making mistakes than with attacking routines. However, Cattermole said he saw positive results from the meet.

Much of the team's strength this season will lie in its attitude.

"At Kentucky, everyone had a chance to get mad or cranky, but they didn't. They stayed supportive of each other," said Coach Cattermole. "A coach couldn't ask for anything better."

Season Outlook

After many strong, satisfying performances in the 2003 season, the Cougars look optimistically at yet another promising season. With fresh, new faces, the gymnastics team anticipates many positive surprises and successes throughout the year.

The team set two new record highs last year — Kari Lords scored a perfect 10.0 on beam and Brogan Jacobsen scored a perfect 10.0 on floor. Cougar fans can look forward to more scintillating floor performances by Jacobsen and to consistently strong beam and vault executions by Lords.

Brad Cattermole, BYU gymnastics coach, said he anticipates a strong team, particularly in beam and vault.

"This year we have eight 10.0 vaulters," Cattermole said. "Most schools don't have anywhere near that many."

Seniors Trisha Ashton, Megan Pessoa, Jacobsen and Lords are all strong competitors, expected to guide this young team by their experience and grace under pressure. Ashton specializes in vault and Pessoa excels in vault and beam.

The Cougars are led for the second year by team co-captains, Ashton and Jacobsen.

Setting personal bests in all events last season, juniors Kirsten Pauga and Jaime Mabray are expected to be strong forces in the upcoming competitions.

Also returning to compete for the Cougars are Staci Butterfield, Meghan Donahue, Jennifer Harvey, Lena Johnson and Lisa Willis.

New gymnasts include Candace Bauer, Kacie Capra, Geneviève Claveau, Marie-Hélène Claveau, Sierra Jacobs, Kandis Kelly, LeAnne Lindsay, and Dayna Smart.

The gymnastics team was sad to lose strong seniors, Lindsay Butterfield, Brooke Haskett, Mindi Hilton and Candace Slater. But this season's new freshmen are a welcomed addition to the team.

Cattermole said the freshmen have a strong work ethic, always ready to get out on the floor and practice.

"Geneviève is by far the best beam worker we've got," Cattermole said.

Twin sister, Marie-Hélène, was team captain for the 2003 Canada Games. Jacobs is a four-year Junior Olympian. Bauer and Capra were both 2003 Junior Olympic Regional Champions.

"When I look at the team, they just don't realize how good they could be," said Brad Cattermole, BYU gymnastics coach. "This team could be the best team we've ever had. A lot is going to come down to what they do on the floor."

The Cougars will kick off their season on Jan. 9 against Kentucky University, in Lexington, KY.

The team will also be going up against No. 6 University of Utah, No. 12 Oregon State and No. 19 Arizona. The season will be challenging, but the Cougars are hopeful, focused and ready.

Cattermole said the team isn't focusing on the competition, but on improving the gymnasts' personal performances.

"You just get out and do your thing. If you can control your mind and make fewer mistakes, it will put more pressure on the other team," he said.

Brad Cattermole
Head Coach

Brad Cattermole begins his 16th season as the head coach of BYU gymnastics. Cattermole has quietly built the Cougar program into a respected national power.

After taking over the program midway through the 1988 season, he promptly led the Cougars to the first 185 in school history. He has since guided the Cougars to school records in nine of the next 12 years, missing record marks only with 1994, 1995 and 1998, when injuries and more stringent scoring kept numbers down.

In 1998, the Cougars broke the 196 barrier for the first time, hitting a 196.325 against Utah in the final meet of the season in Provo. In 2000, once again in Provo, Cattermole's squad broke 196 for the second time, pulling off an upset victory over the University of Utah by a score of 196.05 to 195.975 in the last meet of the season. In 2001, the Cougars shattered all school records, surpassing the 196 mark five different times, a mark they had only reached three times in history. On March 16, 2001 against Utah State at home, BYU reached the 197 mark for the first time in history with a 197.325. Then one week later they broke that record again with a 197.375 at Utah, a full 1.450 points higher than any score they had received on the road. In the record-setting season, BYU set new team highs in each event and in the all-around.

Before conference meets were eliminated in 1994, Cattermole's teams were league runner-ups five times and seven athletes earned 10 all-conference honors. Seven gymnasts have earned 16 NCAA All-America awards under his tutelage.

His recruiting efforts have netted five U.S. National Team members, five Canadian National Team members and numerous Junior Olympic National and Elite champions.

As vault coach, he led Christy McAdams to the Cougars' first perfect 10.0 score. In 2003, Kari Dye-Lords scored a perfect 10.0 on balance beam and Brogan Jacobsen scored a perfect 10.0 on her scintillating floor routing against Southern Utah, Utah State and Central Michigan.

Along with his duties at BYU, Cattermole owns and operates All-American Gymnastics in Orem. Highly successful since he established it in 1976, All-American has earned more State Class I and Class II championships than any other club in Utah. Several athletes - former stars Marianne Williams Squires, Kelli Rose-Rhyssman, Korie Jackman, Cristen Cosgrave-Barlow, Angela Gunnell Anderson and Jessica Nelson-Taylor earned national club honors while competing for All-American gymnasts.

Born in Stormlake, Iowa, Cattermole grew up in Los Angeles. He competed on the 1971 BYU men's gymnastics team. Following his freshmen year, he left school to serve an LDS mission to Peru. His competitive career ended when he broke his hand in practice shortly after his return from his mission. He was a part-time assistant women's gymnastics coach at BYU and part-time coach at Provo Gymnastics during the 1975-76 season while he continued his schooling at BYU.

He is married to Dawn Niedert and they have three boys - Brad 26, Brett 23, and Mark 19. Brett recently returned from an LDS mission in Brazil and Brad recently returned from England. Mark is currently serving an LDS mission in Iceland.

Dawn Cattermole Assistant Coach

After working with her husband Brad at All-American Gymnastics since he established the club in 1976, she joined him as Assistant Coach at BYU when he was named head coach 16 years ago.

An experienced coach and judge, Dawn Niedert Cattermole has been a respected member of the gymnastics community for more than 25 years.

An expert in beam and floor exercise, Dawn has coached many National Champions on beam and floor at the Junior Olympics and at Elite Nationals.

At BYU, her 1992 floor team earned the Cougars first-ever event score of 49.00. They bettered that in 1993 with a 49.15, tying the beam squad for the highest BYU event score at that time. For the next two years, the floor team continued its high-scoring tradition, and last year, it again broke a school record for best event score with a 49.35. In 2001, the Cougars surpassed the 49.100 mark seven of the eleven meets and finished with a new record of 49.625 on the floor. BYU did even better in 2002, scoring a new school record of 49.650 against Southern Utah and breaking the 49.000 mark in nine of 12 meets.

Floor scores of 9.90 or better have become common for the Cougars under her guidance and last year, six gymnast recorded scores of 9.90 or higher, with three going over the 9.95 mark, including a new school record of 9.975 by Kim Little and a 9.975 by Kari Dye Lords.

Since adding the role of recruiting coordinator to her duties, Dawn Cattermole has been key in bringing several future stars into the Cougar fold.

A native of Elgin, Illinois, Dawn has attended the 1979 World Championships, 1986 World Championships, Canadian National Championships since 1997, and the Commonwealth Games in Manchester, England in July 2002.

Shauna Mertz Assistant Coach

In her 11th year with the Cougars, Shauna Sudbury Mertz works mainly with the beam squad, while helping with the other events as well.

During her seven-year stint as beam coach, the team has steadily improved. In 1992, it set a school record of 48.90 and bettered that with a 49.15 in 1993. That score was tied with the floor team for the highest event score in school history until the 2000 season, when the bars and floor teams recorded higher marks. BYU passed the 49 mark three times in 2001, setting a new team high on the beam with a 49.275 in the last two meets.

In 1993 she helped Juliet Bangerter to a Second Team All-America award and a school record 9.95. In 1997, Rose eclipsed that record with a 9.975 and earned First Team All-America honors. Under Mertz's guidance, Kari Dye scored a perfect 10.0 in the meet against Utah in 2003.

During her standout competitive career at BYU, Mertz scored highs of 9.75 on bars and 9.85 on beam.

A Sandy, Utah, native, Mertz graduated from BYU in 1993 with a degree in health education. She is married to Brad Mertz and they have four children - McKay, 8, Nichole, 6, Natalie, 3 and Austin, 8 months.
